NUMB. 3104

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1744.

last arriv'd a Mail from France, and another from Holland.

Petersburgh, January 28.

TH E Day before Yesterday M. d'Alion, the French Minister, took his Leave of this Court, but as a private Person; for as his Letters of Recall bore the Empress the Czarina only, and not her Imperial Majesty, she would not take any Notice of him in his publick Character. This Court has signified a Resolution of complying with the form'd by his Britannick Majesty for settling peace of the North; since which it is strongly re- al, that the Marquis de la Chetardie will not enter any Business till the Court goes to Moscow. Sir Cy- rous has receiv'd the Compliments of our Ministry, his being appointed his Britannick Majesty's Am- bassador at the Ottoman Porte. The Grand Marshal, de Belucheff, sets out in a Fortnight's Time for Moscow. The Empress has defer'd her Journey to Mos- cow for four Days.

SWEDEN, January 31. The King has made a Pre- sent of the Palace of Ulrichdal to the Prince, his Sue- son, and his Royal Highness entertain'd his Majesty Yesterday; after Dinner they diverted themselves hunting a Stag in the Park. The French Court remitted great Sums of Money to their Minister to be employed in facilitating their new Projects; but, however, are not like to take Effect. Accord- ing to the last Advices from Copenhagen, the Terms of Union are adjust'd between that Court and this. Kings are to sign a Declaration, importing a mu- tual Resolution to maintain all the Treaties at present existing, and thereupon both Sides are to disarm. The Peace between his Royal Highness of Sweden and Prince of Prussia, is said to be concluded.

GENOVA, January 15. The six Merchants taken up by the English Consul are again dismissed. Admiral Anson, before his Departure, is said to have threat- en'd this Republick in very harsh Terms, in case she refused to erect Magazines, or took any other Step, to the Honour of the French or Spaniards. We pretend to say, but it is well enough understood here, that this is a Show; for our Nobility are too fond of their Palaces, to differ with an English Admiral, who has any Bomb Vessels at his Command; and therefore, all the Stir we have made, Final must be given up to the King of Sardinia, if this terrible Admiral should demand it, and threaten a Bombardment, in case of our refusal.

BERLIN, February 5. Yesterday a grand Council of Ministers was held at Count Staremberg's, in which several Resolutions were taken, that are kept secret. The same day the Duke of Arenberg had a Conference of two Days, with the Grand Duke of Tuscany, in relation to the Affairs of the Netherlands; in which it was resolv'd, to Regiments of Foot, and 16 of Horse, besides Cavalry, Croats, and Hussars, shall be sent thither. Majesty has not yet dispos'd of the Command of Army, lately possess'd by Count Khevenhuller; but generally believ'd at present, that it will be given to Marshal Count Traun; and that he will have un- der him, as General of the Horse, Count de Hohenheim; as General Count de Daun as General of Foot. A new Regiment of Artillery is actually gone to Moravia; and the Infant is the Day fix'd for the Departure of Prince Charles, and his Consort, the Archduchess, Countess, Minister from his Prussian Majesty, has lately receiv'd a Declaration in his Master's Name, that with Re- spect to the Affair of the Dietature, he finds himself, after mature Deliberation, oblig'd to comply with what the Emperor has desired. On the powerful Intercession of the Court of Great Britain, her Majesty has been oblig'd to direct a Commission for redressing the pre- judicial Grievances of the Protestants in Hungary; and for securing their being at all aggrieved for the future.

Extract from the Paris Alaman.

PARIS, February 19. The King has declared, that he expects, in a short time, an Ambassador from the Ot- toman Porte.

The Equipage from the Prince of Conti, which set out from hence last Week, consists of seven Waggons, Men Servants, 100 Saddle and Draught Horses, and Mules.

M. Van Hory, Ambassador from the States-General of this Court, dispatched, within these few Days, a Courier for Holland; which is what he has not done for a long Time.

The Count de Thoring-Secfeld, who set out on the 7th from Frankfort, in Quality of Ambassador from his Imperial Majesty to the King of Spain, is expect- ed here, in order to communicate his Instructions to our Ministry before he sets out for Madrid.

The Queen of Hungary has demand'd Lieutenant- General de Jerouville, and the other Officers who were taken Prisoners at Fontenoy, and who were only per- mitted to return on their Parole; her Majesty having come to no Agreement with the French Commissary, who was sent from hence to Vienna, in order to treat for their Ransom.

Some idle and incredible Passages relating to the De- parture, Strength, and Destination of the French Fleet, are omitted; because they seem to be calculated en- tirely for the Meridian of Paris.

Extract of a Letter from Toulon, dated Feb. 5.

At last all Things are ready for an Engagement at Sea, and it cannot be long before it happens; the first Column of the Spaniards are actually arriv'd, and the last are daily expected.

On the 7th a large Rod of Iron was fix'd cross each of our Ships, to which a Bomb of the greatest Size will be slung, so as to be thrown on board any Ship that shall attempt to board them.

The Bishop of this City has published a Mandate throughout his Diocese, directing publick Prayers to be made for the Prosperity of the King's Arms by Land and Sea; the Effects of which are daily ex- pected.

Actions 2060.

General Post-Office, London, February 8, 1743.

WHEREAS the Post-Boy, going out with the Well Mail from this Office, was this Morning, between Five and Six o'Clock, attack'd on the Highway at the Staling Place, on the other Side of Turuham-Green, by a single Highwayman, who took the said Post-Boy into a Field adjoining to the Road, and opened the Mail, and carried off the Exeter and Plymouth Bags: The Person, who committed this Robbery, is a middle-sized Man, and had on a Blue Great Coat, with his Hat tied over his Head; and he rode on a Sorrel Horse with a White Face, about Fourteen Hands high, and made off for Acton, the Oxford Road.

This therefore is to give Notice, that whoever shall apprehend and convict, or cause to be apprehended and convicted, the Person who committed this Robbery, will be intitled to a Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, over and above the Reward given by Act of Parliament for apprehending of Highwaymen: Or if any Person or Persons, whether Accomplices in the said Robbery, or knowing thereof, shall make a Discovery, whereby the Person who committed the same may be apprehended and brought to Justice, such Discoverer, or Discoverers, will, upon Conviction of the Party, be intitled to the same Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, and also have his Majesty's most gracious Pardon.

After all that has been published, at Home and Abroad, concerning the Brest Squadron, there is Reason to be- lieve, it is at present in the Road of Dunkirk; after having sustained no small Damage by keeping so long at Sea.

Private Letters, by the Way of Vienna, mention a new Insurrection at Constantinople, which, they say, had been appeas'd with very great Difficulty; and the same Letters add, that all their Victories over the Per- sians, were an Imagination only.

They write from the Hague, that the States-General have taken a Resolution, to employ a large Body of Troops for the Security of their Barrier; and, that upon their Application, the Queen of Hungary has order'd the Garison of the City of Luxemburg to be considerably reinforced. The Auxiliaries for the Ser- vice of that Prince's will consist of the same Number as last Year; viz. 20,000 Men.

The Portsmouth Man of War arriv'd at Bristol on the 9th at Night, from a Cruise; who, very early the Sunday before, met a Spanish Privateer chasing the Duke of Lorraine, Capt. Willson, from East-India, who had been nine Weeks from St. Helena. The Man of War fired at the Privateer, on which she threw her Guns overboard, and put out her Oars, and got off.
